HUMPHREY APPEARS IN AS VP

Stage All Set For Johnson Nomination

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Democrats turn from convention battles to the loud but peaceful ritual tonight of acclaiming President Johnson as their nominee and hearing finally his choice of a running mate.

All hands — including Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's — pointed to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the bustling quick-talking party whip in the Senate as the man Johnson wants for vice president.

McCarthy, who had been another favorite in the vice-presidential derby, declared today in favor of Humphrey, a fellow Minnesotan.

McCarthy sent a telegram to Johnson this morning, acknowledging he had been interested for several weeks in the job but concluding:

"It is my opinion the qualifications that you have listed or which you are said to have listed as most desirable in the man who would be vice president with you would be met admirably by Senator Humphrey."

"I wish therefore to recommend for your primary consideration Senator Hubert H. Humphrey."

Sometime in the next few hours, Johnson will — one way or another — make his choice known.

But no one professed in advance to know just how or when.

Delegates who eddied around in this football field-sized hall had gone through all of the characteristic motions of a Democratic convention and now were ready for the big show.

They had adopted a platform giving the Republicans what-for but carefully tailored to fit Johnson's prescription for a consensus party within which Southern conservatives could labor alongside Northern liberals in the campaign vineyard for the President's election in November.

They patched up a compromise nobody liked over the question of seating a Mississippi delegation not pledged to support the national ticket.

Five members of the predominantly Negro Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party gained entrance to the hall and sat down in the all-but-empty seats under the state's banner, where they weren't supposed to be.

Promptly the only three members of the all-white regulars who had agreed to go along with Johnson — and thus had been seated — vanished in the crowd.

Alabama delegates who had refused to take the loyalty pledge but had filled up the seats in that state's sector shouted a loyalty yell when House Speaker John W. McCormack, who took over as the convention's permanent chairman, asked for it.

The Alabamians said this made them legal delegates. Bailey said he knew nothing about any such arrangement, adding that "they are not in the convention." Since no roll calls seemed likely, nobody seemed to care much who sat in the Alabama chairs.

Skillful maneuvering kept the credentials fight off the convention floor, and there was no walk-out to be recorded by television cameras.

Outside the hall the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party delegates demonstrated on a side street, television cameras and passersby catching their activities.

The credentials committee, headed by former Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania, had obtained acceptance by the convention on a voice vote of a report that required the Mississippi regulars, chosen under the auspices of Gov. Paul Johnson, to pledge support to the Johnson ticket before they could be seated. Johnson announced in Mississippi that under no circumstances would he support the Johnson ticket, an outcome that was a surprise to no one.

The committee recommended that the rival Freedom delegation be welcomed to the hall and that two of its leaders be seated as delegates at large with votes that would not be used because no roll calls were in the offing. The Freedom group rejected the compromise but some of its spokesmen said they might reconsider today.

All of this was accompanied by the routine of having candidates for the Senate and governors read the platform, section by section. It was adopted on a voice vote with brief cheering.

McCormack took over the permanent chairman's gavel with an attack on the Republicans. He said the GOP had been captured by extremists who use the methods of totalitarian movements.

proposal in the Mississippi contest which would have seated the regular Mississippi delegates, provided they signed a loyalty pledge, and which also would have seated as at-large delegates two of the Negro group.

The regulars balked. In an angry statement drafted in a two-hour caucus, the Mississippi all-white group said that never before had a legally constituted delegation been required to sign such a loyalty pledge.

In event of her recovery, she will face the indictments.

A charge of assault and battery against Jimmy Brown of Midland was withdrawn.

119th County Fair Starts With Judging

Youth Day Event To See Crowning Of King, Queen

LISBON — Cool weather along with clear skies marked the start of contests and judging of exhibits and livestock as the 119th annual Columbiana County Fair got under way.

A "medium sized" crowd gathered this morning to watch the light and heavy horse-pulling contests, weighing of 4-H Club steers and judging of junior dairy cattle, vegetable, fruit, flower, culinary, textiles, arts, swine and sheep, poultry, grain, seeds, hay and grass silage, junior pony and horse exhibits and entries. Home Council members gave demonstrations during the day.

The first afternoon of horse racing was also held. The trotters will also run Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Today was "Youth Day" and the highlight will be the crowning of the 4-H king and queen during the intermission of the 4-H "old-fashioned show" tonight in front of grandstand.

The show will include the 4-H Band, which also played for fair today, the 60-voice chorus, individual and group vocal selections, tap dancing, square dancing and comedy skits. The Lisbon Hi-riders, horse drill

He was standing on the roof and fell 30 feet to the ground after touching the wire. Dr. John Colavincenzo, county coroner, said Mr. Cassida died instantly.

EXHIBITORS ARE READY. Although the crowds weren't on hand, the Lisbon fairgrounds was a busy place Tuesday as exhibitors made ready for the opening of the 119th annual fair today. "Red Flash" stands quietly while Francine Novotny of Youngstown braids his tail in preparation for the pony competition Friday as Carol Hahn of Minerva and Pat Novotny comfort the pony. Henry Siefke of Grandview Orchards of Lisbon R.D.4 places a box of apples in his exhibit while his grandson, Mike Siefke, shines another apple for the display. Fair or no fair, cows have to be milked so Terrie Rhodes of Salem R.D.4 tries milking one of the Guernseys shown by her family. A Hereford bull owned by Gloria Cusick of Lisbon R.D.5, which will be entered in the 4-H steer competition, is unloaded by Jack Rudibaugh of Shadyside Ave. Ext. and his son, Terry.

Owners Price 2 High School Sites

The owners of two tracts being considered as possible sites for a proposed new high school have submitted prices for their land to the Board of Education, Supt. Paul H. Blair revealed at the meeting of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools Tuesday night at the high school.

The superintendent said he wasn't free to reveal the offers at this time but said he felt both figures were negotiable.

BLAIR said he will be in Columbus Thursday to meet with officials of the State Department of Education on sites and prices.

An offer was received Tuesday from Standley T. Hilbert, owner of a tract of approximately 33 acres on Maine Blvd.

near the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Blair said he believes the figure is acceptable to the state officials, who must give final approval to the site picked.

An offer for a tract off Anderson Blvd. at the rear of Riverview Greenhouses has been received from Sullivan and Charles Bosco, the superintendent continued, adding that he has not discussed the proposal with the state officials.

Blair made the announcement after the group toured the high school building with the superintendent serving as guide to point out deficiencies.

THE MEETING was one of a series being held to promote passage of a combined bond issue and tax levy at a special election Sept. 15. The combined ballot, which requires only a single "Yes" or "No", is for a $3,380,000 bond issue and an additional half - mill over the amount necessary to retire the bonds for repayment of an interest-free state loan of $990,958 for construction of a new high school and three area elementary buildings.

Fact sheets also were distributed to campaign workers, citing the need for a new high school and elementary buildings, the state grant and what is termed the alternative.

With costs of school construction increasing about 3 per cent annually, failure of the bond issue would mean the cost would increase about $130,000 a year for each year the program is delayed. In five years, that would amount to $650,000 or the cost of one of the elementary buildings, according to the information sheet.

IN ADDITION, if the bond issue is defeated, the school district will lose the state loan of $990,958 and the district would have to pay the entire cost of any new building program.

The fact sheet also points out the present buildings will continue to require huge sums of money for constantly increasing repairs.

In the last five years, $235,000 has been spent on repair and maintenance with the older buildings, which would be replaced, requiring 93 per cent of the money and the newer build-

Cleo Appears Headed For Florida Keys

Hurricane Blamed For Deaths Of 64; Cuban Area Lashed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo, with at least 64 dead in her wake, thrashed slowly and erratically today across central Cuba on a course threatening the Florida Keys.

The Miami Weather Bureau predicted that minor squalls in advance of the storm would reach the Keys during the afternoon and it expected to hoist gale warnings tonight.

Coming off the north coast of Cuba, over the warm waters of the Florida Strait, the hurricane could quickly regain some of its lost power. Its winds, which hit 140 miles an hour over Haiti, dropped to 75 over Cuba.

Reports from Cuba on the storm's position were not complete.

The Weather Bureau estimated that the storm was centered at 8 a.m. (EST) near latitude 22.3 north, longitude 79.6 west. This is 210 miles southeast of Key West and 250 miles south-southeast of Miami.

The hurricane, which killed at least 14 on the island of Guadeloupe and an estimated 50 in the mountains of Haiti, moved into Cuba Tuesday afternoon.

Residents of south Florida were warned to keep in touch with advisories and be ready to take quick safety measures.

Hammondsville Span Contract Let By State

The Ohio Department of Highways has awarded a contract for construction of a new bridge over Yellow Creek in Hammondsville to Earl H. Newell & Sons, the Division 11 headquarters in New Philadelphia was advised Tuesday.

The Columbiana contractor was apparently low bidder in the Aug. 18 bid opening for the 0.1-mile improvement to State Route 213 in the Jefferson County village.

Following study of bids, it was determined that the contract should be awarded on the basis of Newell's $100,409 bid. P. E. Masheter, director of Ohio Department of Highways, awarded the contract.

Transport workers returned today to their jobs at Pan American Airways following a strike-ending agreement on a new labor contract which one union official called the best ever negotiated in the industry.

The strike of AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union members lasted less than 24 hours but crippled the airline's operations to foreign points from New York, Miami, Washington, Seattle, Wash., Portland, Ore., San Francisco, Los Angeles and Houston, Tex.

Pan American operates no domestic flights.

The air line recalled all its employees to duty shortly after the agreement was reached.

Board Chairman Juan Trippe said extra planes will be operated in transatlantic service to accommodate any backlog of traffic.

Gaming Case Defendant's Hearing Reset

A hearing slated Tuesday afternoon for William Watson on a charge of exhibiting gaming devices was continued by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland until Monday to allow time for study of motions submitted by the defendant's counsel and Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr.

The charge was filed by Constables Harold Davis and J. Carl Durham, and Deputy Paul R. Cowey of the sheriff's office Aug. 17 in executing search and seizure warrants at the Cactus Bar on Route 30 near Chester.

The search warrants were issued by Squire Herron on complaint of Eugene R. Miner, 36, of Kensington. Miner reportedly complained to authorities he was "cheated" of money while gambling at the tavern allegedly owned by Watson.

Chester Council Adopts Water, Sewage Measures

Three lengthy ordinances framing the legal aspects of a new municipal sewage disposal plant and water system were passed on first of two required readings by Chester City Council Tuesday night, one squeaking through on a 3-2 vote.

Legislation creating a combination water and sewage board, and establishing rates for water and sewage service, were passed on first reading, 5-0.

But an ordinance setting up legislation for printing and sale of bonds, and payment of the bonds, passed on a 3-2 vote, with Councilmen Charles Koloy of the First Ward and Richard Johnson of the Second Ward dissenting.

The first ordinance calls for creation of a seven-member water and sewage board, comprised of Mayor Harry Abrams, three members of Council, and three city residents.

The second establishes the water and sewer rates, with sewage rates to be 100 per cent of the water fees.

As first payment to the sinking fund to pay for the new systems is due Dec. 15, the rates will be effective in the present quarter, and first billing for customers will be in October. Council authorized the water committee to hire any additional clerical help necessary in getting the service bills prepared in time for the city to make first payment to the sinking fund.

The third ordinance outlines the procedure the city may follow in passing a bond issue of either $357,000 or $347,000 to finance construction of the new systems.

The city has been promised a federal grant of $117,000, or roughly one-third of the cost, but the funds will not be re-

Army Capt. Thomas A. Simcox, 30, of Chester has been awarded the Purple Heart for a wound received Jan. 2 while serving in Viet Nam with a Special Forces group.

The officer's lower leg was pierced by a jagged steel blade when he leaped for cover in the fighting in the strife-torn Southeast Asia country. The blade had apparently been set in the ground as defense fortification by the Viet Cong.

After several weeks in a hospital, Capt. Simcox was given leave in February to visit his ailing father in Chester. He later returned to Viet Nam, was sent to Okinawa in May, and left Friday for further duty with Special Forces in Viet Nam.

He is a son of Mrs. Frank Simcox, 441 Indiana Ave., and the late Frank Simcox.

Couple Held In $1,435 Auction Theft

William Lewis Johns, 47, and his common-law wife were being held in Allegheny County Jail in Pittsburgh today awaiting court action on a charge of theft of $1,435 in cash from the Burns Community Sales, an auction barn on Route 30 two miles east of Clinton, in June.

His wife in a statement to authorities has accused Johns of a string of thefts dating back five years in the Tri-State Area, including Hancock, Beaver and Columbiana Counties.

At a preliminary hearing Tuesday night before Finley Township Justice of the Peace Jess M. Hampton, Johns pleaded innocent to the theft of money from the auction barn, and his common-law wife, Marie K. Shipman (Johns), pleaded guilty.

Police Chief Steve Krawchuk of Finley Township in the Clinton - Imperial area said the pair was taken to Pittsburgh to await action by authorities there.

The wife accused Johns, a home repair employee, of a string of thefts. He is alleged to have sold the stolen items at an auction sale in Winchester, Va.

Among the thefts she accused her husband of were an aluminum ladder from a private home near the Rogers Auction Barn in Columbiana County, and five guns and a portable sewing machine from a home in Hancock County in 1962-63, the chief reported.

Lawn chairs, rero-tillers and bicycles were among the other items stolen in the area, according to authorities.

He gave authorities a Weirton rural address.

The Time Is Short, The Need Great

The time is short for getting across the message on behalf of the $3.3 million bond issue for school construction which will be presented to the voters in a special election next month.

One by one various organizations and individuals are lining up in support of the issue.

But mere declarations of support are not enough. More vital, if the bond issue is to pass, is for those backing the program to get out and work for it — and work hard. A lot of door-bell ringing, a lot of speech-making and varied other approaches must be the order of the day in the next two weeks.

The need for new schools is quite clear to those who have paid close attention to the school district's educational facilities and problems over the years. There are many, however, who have failed to become too concerned about the matter for one reason or another. It is to these people that the need must be hammered home again and again before the vote on Sept. 15.

Approval of a $3-million bond issue does not come easy. There's a lot of hard work ahead in the few days remaining.

Moving Ahead

The Weirton Steel Co.'s role in the district economy was emphasized again Tuesday when John A. Jones reviewed the giant mill's expansion program during an address to the Rotary Club here.

Weirton Steel — with a payroll of more than 12,000, many of whom are from the immediate area — is keeping abreast in the rugged competition for vital markets with a development program designed to make it second to none when the expansion is completed in 1966.

The company's willingness to invest heavily is indicative of its confidence in the district's future and its own future and is another encouraging sign industrial-wise. Especially gratifying was Mr. Jones' statement that the continued modernization is not expected to mean a decline in employment.

In Strength There Is Unity

The Democratic party has been able to claim a remarkable degree of unity in recent years because of its strength. Nothing succeeds like success.

Democrats as individuals have been hopelessly divided in their beliefs. The Democratic party has been split up regionally. There have been times when little if any rapport existed between Democratic presidents and members of the Democratic majorities in Congress.

Squabbles have erupted between dissident factions of Democrats in Washington. There have been hurly-burly collisions of differing factions in Democratic national conventions.

Democrats from the North have screamed in anger about the pre-emption of committee chairmanships by representatives and senators from the Solid South — crusty old-liners who ran their committees like cardrooms and squelched every idea originating later than the turn of the century.

BUT WHEN the chips have gone down in recent years — since 1932 — Democrats have been as one. Even that unusual affair in 1948 when Strom Thurmond and Henry A. Wallace tried to knife Harry Truman in the back ended up in a Democratic victory.

When it was all over, the Democrats lined up behind the winner, took their share of the patronage and the spoils of victory, including the committee chairmanships that are the posts of real power in Washington, and loved one another like brothers.

For the last few days there has been an almost desperate effort among newsmen assigned to the Democratic convention in Atlantic City to stir up a hornet's nest over the seating of certain delegates whose credentials were questionable. But the overriding fact is that the delegates to this Democratic convention were in no mood for disunity.

In strength there is unity. The Democratic party is remarkably unified in 1964. Even its Southern recalcitrants are deeply mindful that President Johnson once was one of them, though he likes to think of himself now as more of a Westerner, which is not to say he doesn't also think of himself as an Easterner, a Northerner — and still a Southerner.

This, when you think about it, is the most notable characteristic of Lyndon B. Johnson in the presidency, in national politics and in the Democratic party.

More than any presidential figure in memory, he is striving to be acceptable to all factions in his party and in the nation — a personal symbol of unity.

Those Revolving Platforms

The question always arises when our political parties are constructing their platforms about their built-in revolving feature.

What causes the Democratic party today to be espousing things once espoused by the Republican party and vice versa? If platforms are statements of principle, how is it possible for the two political parties to swap their principles like a brace of comedians swapping hats in an old-time vaudeville routine?

The answer is not hard to discover. Each party makes a point and practice of opposing the other. Only rarely is there agreement. Usually, when it occurs, it is only nominal, not actual, agreement.

Thus, in the evolution of political positions, there is a parallel evolution of political "oppositions."

Once the Democratic party stood for states' rights, in opposition to centralization of government in Washington. Today the Republican party is for states' rights, in opposition to centralization of government in Washington.

Once the Republican party stood for an end of slavery for Negroes and a grant of full citizenship to all Negroes residing in the United States. Today, the gratitude this won the Republican party from Negroes has largely disappeared and the Democratic party, once hated by Negroes, gets the great majority of Negro votes, even in the Southern states still fighting Negro enfranchisement.

Political platforms do revolve, slowly but surely. They are made to revolve by the inexorable pressure of political opposition, which eventually causes each party to move into the position previously vacated by the other.

exaggerations, lampooning, whooping and hollering.

As long as we can keep it this way, our chance of survival is good. Heaven help us if we take things seriously — as seriously, for example, as flinty characters left over from our own rebellion a century ago when rockheads went berserk.

I LOVE the political conventions and love the TV net works for giving me this closeup view of government in action.

I eat up every word and gesture. It is like being backstage at a show and watching the action from the wings.

I wonder how many people who have this privilege know they are seeing and hearing more of what goes on than they would if they were attending the convention.

It's the difference between watching a ball game first-hand and having it projected into your living room with a running account of the action and observations by a skillful commentator.

Don't tell me, please, it isn't as interesting as the taped trash it supplants for a few days every four years. It's like complaining because William Shakespeare's plays have left no room for the pulps.

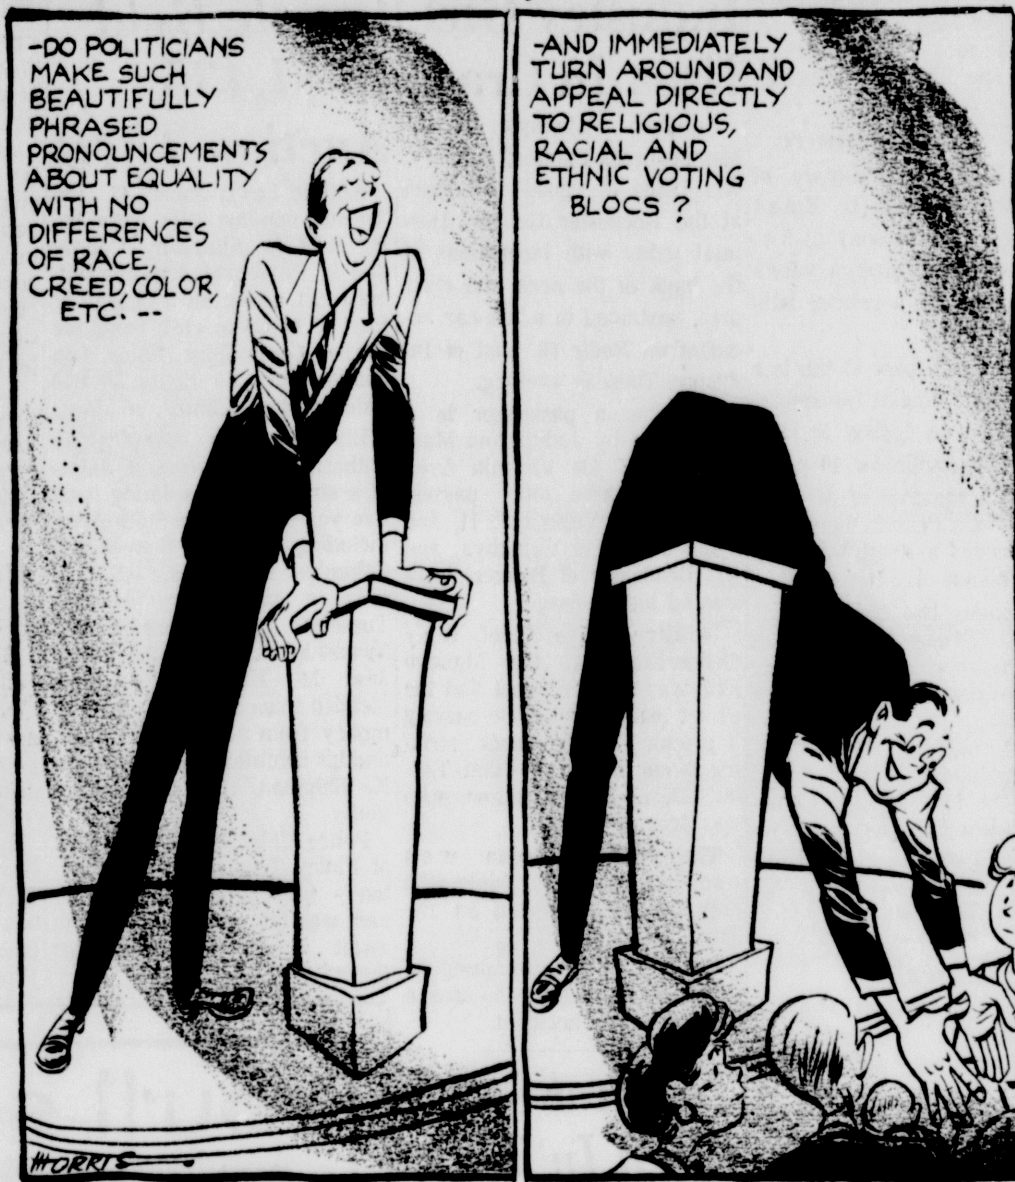

Odd Facts

Labor Goes All Out Against Barry

By Victor Riesel

Behind the scenes of this bedlam-by-the-sea, a powerful political labor organization is at work in suites at the Hotel Traymore.

These headquarters are the key command posts for the campaign troops which will be the real force of President Johnson's push for reelection.

From the unprecedented concentration of union chiefs here will flow the manpower, the multi-million dollar funds, the political films, the car pools, the precinct squads, the door-bell ringers, the money for national broadcasts and the telephone corps which will put in over 10 million calls before election day.

Without these labor leaders there could be no effective Democratic party campaign — and these men are here not just to plan the defeat of Barry Goldwater for president but to launch an offensive to smash his influence and drive him from politics for a long time.

NEVER BEFORE have so many influential labor leaders converged on a Democratic nominating convention. I've counted more than 50 national union presidents. Only a few of them will be on the convention floor.

Mostly they will send their second echelon officials into the tumult. The latest count now shows over 200 union officials who will be Democratic party convention delegates and 75 who will serve as alternates.

Never before have the labor leaders been as united as they are in their political hatred for the Republican presidential candidate. There were labor men who went Republican even in the campaigns of Franklin Roosevelt and John Kennedy. But not today as they prepare to call Sen. Goldwater "warmonger," "destroyer of unions" and "enemy of the working peoples' bread and butter." Those will be the labor slogans.

MUTUAL ENMITY for Barry Goldwater has brought together even such bitter enemies as Walter Reuther and the old line leaders of the powerful building and construction trades.

A Big Question

By David Lawrence

Debate On Nuclear Weapons Rages On

ATLANTIC CITY — Platform planks may be tossed aside by some citizens in our country as just so much verbiage, but foreign governments — both friend and foe — are accustomed to reading between the lines of any foreign policy pronouncement from the United States.

They are anxious to determine whether America will stand up resolutely or procrastinate in an emergency and thus unwittingly give an adversary a big advantage.

A DEVELOPING issue which has crept into the political campaign involves a possible land invasion of Europe some day by Communist armies.

Sen. Goldwater thinks that, to meet such a contingency, the supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — usually an American — should be authorized in advance that under certain circumstances small nuclear weapons of a tactical nature may be used to thwart an aggression.

For this, the Republican presidential nominee has been accused by the Democrats of wanting to "trigger a war" or of wishing to let some irresponsible hand abroad start a nuclear conflict.

THE QUESTION has been beclouded further by a meaningless declaration in the party platform now scheduled for adoption by the Democratic National Convention here. It reads:

"Control of the use of nuclear weapons must remain solely with the highest elected official of the country — the president of the United States."

Nobody ever has disputed this broad principle, and Sen. Goldwater himself has said the same thing.

The issue goes deeper. It concerns the best means of defending Western Europe against invasion by conventional forces. Certainly it is the duty solely of the Commander-in-Chief — namely, the president of the United States — to decide when or where any nuclear weapon, however small, shall be used.

BUT SO ALSO has it always been the sole right of Congress to declare war. Yet the Congress has duly ratified the North Atlantic Treaty, which authorizes in advance military action by the United States to defend immediately any or all member nations of NATO who may be attacked.

It is precisely the same concept of planning for a grave contingency that has prompted the recent discussion of how to ward off a land invasion in Europe.

The idea has been to urge the president of the United States to announce that, in an emergency, small tactical nuclear weapons can be used at once.

THIS, IT IS ARGUED by many military men — especially in France and other European countries — is the best way to let the world in general and the Soviets in particular know that such a military aggression will not be allowed to succeed even though the armies of the Western European allies may be greatly outnumbered.

This is one reason why the platform plank adopted here will be construed as a turnaround of the simple proposal advocated by military experts that the American supreme commander in NATO be given in advance authority to use small tactical nuclear weapons when circumstances require it.

THE FEAR has been that, if it is widely known that NATO armies cannot immediately act in response to an attack but would have to wait for a long discussion in Washington to yield a decision on the question, then there would be danger of being overrun by an advancing enemy.

A time lag of two hours could mean the difference between victory and defeat. Hence, it is urged that the field commander-in-chief be allowed to respond instantly by using tactical weapons with small nuclear warheads.

The Democratic national platform is vague on the whole subject, which is an indication that the politicians wish to remain noncommittal on the issue and still accuse their opponents of trying to start a nuclear war, when, in truth, the basic question is whether the Soviets shall be given virtual immunity from any nuclear response if they try to seize Berlin and West Germany and march across France with their huge armies.

THE SOLIDARITY of NATO as an alliance is at stake. It had been hoped that the administration would issue some pronouncement, even during a political campaign, that would dispel the fears of the Western European countries.

The Russians, of course, are watching the whole performance here with penetrating interest. The Moscow news agency dispatches keep emphasizing that Sen. Goldwater and the Republicans are pursuing "brinkmanship" in foreign policy. Yet it was the "brinkmanship" of an American secretary of state, the late John Foster Dulles, which deflated many a crisis in which the Communists had sought to test American resoluteness.

THEY WERE answered promptly, and war was averted. It is the same formula that now is being urged on both parties by military men, who have no political ax to grind and who are concerned solely with the prevention of a major war.

Dull Convention

By James Marlow

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — This is the dullest political convention since the one the Republicans held in 1956, and for the same reason. Yet, it has its own special fascination in the things unseen and unsaid.

In 1956 the Republicans met to go through the motions of approving the uncontested renomination of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Here the Democrats are doing the same for the uncontested nomination of President Johnson.

Then and now there was the usual routine of blasting the opposition.

But the Democratic speakers, reciting the wonders of the administrations of Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy, bracket both men in their eulogies without mentioning the differences between them.

Perhaps the greatest difference was this: Kennedy was an individual kind of president; Johnson is far more the organization man.

Kennedy at the time of his death was still young enough to give a sense of youth to the presidency. Johnson can't. He is deeper in middle age.

The words of Kennedy, a far better read man than Johnson and therefore more literary in his thinking, had a sparkle which Johnson's more pedestrian speeches never achieve.

There was a sense of gaiety about Kennedy, a wit and detachment about himself and his job, which is lacking in Johnson who sounds more deadly serious and sometimes even doleful.

But Kennedy wasn't in the same league with Johnson in unrelenting presidential drive aimed at persuading people — particularly in Congress — to melt their differences to do what he wanted or some of what he wanted.

He works at organizing his forces in a way Kennedy, just because of his detachment, might never have mastered. It seems a basic part of Johnson's make-up that he must succeed, if not entirely, at least a bit.

It's this part of Johnson which showed up at this convention while he remained in Washington. There can hardly be any doubt his guiding hand is running the show.

If the tone of this convention could be summed up in one word it would be: moderation. The moderation has a double purpose obvious before the convention ever opened here Monday.

The object is keeping the Democrats united while attracting as many independents and Republicans as possible. This is the usual political tactic, of course, but this year it has a special significance.

Pope Makes Plea Against Arms Race

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI warned today that "some of those basic principles on which peace must be founded" are crumbling.

In an impassioned appeal against an arms race, the Pontiff begged men to remember what caused two devastating world wars, and deplored what he called a return to the "illusory concept that peace can only be based on the terrifying power of extremely homicidal weapons."

Pope Paul said the world is seeing a rebirth of perilous concepts, that the "concept of the sacred and inviolable character of human life" has been obscured.

"Men of good will, listen to our humble words," the Pontiff implored.

The Pope spoke to his weekly general audience at his summer residence south of Rome.

Pope Paul decried "subversive propaganda and revolutionary disorders," and said that even pacifist statements are misused to promote social and political contrasts. This may have been a reference to pro-Communist "peace movements."

Pope Paul said his thoughts were stirred by the current anniversary commemorations of the start of World Wars I and II. He expressed concern at the "acute disagreements, already stained with blood and pregnant with menacing omens existing today between various countries."

White Rights Worker Gives Post To Negro

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A white civil rights worker from Cincinnati, Ohio, has turned over his job as Arkansas director of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee to a Negro.

William Hansen Jr., who married an Arkansas Negro girl after coming here from Cincinnati two years ago, said he turned the committee's Arkansas project over to James Jones, 22, of Pine Bluff because the committee "is primarily a Negro movement and I feel the situation calls for Negro leadership."

Jones Addresses Rotary Club Here

Weirton Steel Expansion Outlined

No change in the number of employees is expected when the Weirton Steel Co. completes a vast expansion program in 1966, including installation of continuous casting equipment.

So said John A. Jones, director of public relations at Weirton Steel, when he addressed members of the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

He explained that some of the company's work force of nearly 12,500 may be "displaced," but the total work force will not dip because of greater steel-making capacity.

Weirton Steel is a division of the National Steel Corp.

THE NEW plant at Weirton will incorporate basic oxygen furnaces, vacuum degassing equipment and a continuous casting installation.

Continuous casting is a foreign process and National Steel has acquired one-half interest in the rights, Jones said. The process will boost Weirton's capacity to produce slabs at a rate in excess of 1½-million tons per year.

The plant will be the first in the world to integrate in a single operation on a large-scale production basis the three most dramatic advances of recent years in steel technology, Jones declared.

"The impact of the expansion program will be to help the low-range economic stability of Weirton and the Upper Ohio Valley and to contribute to the job security of Weirton Steel employees," he added. It also will help the company meet increased foreign and domestic competition.

THE MAIN plant and grounds of the continuous casting mill will occupy more than 20 acres. The steelmaking section will consist of two basic oxygen furnaces designed for producing up to 300 tons of steel per heat in less than one hour. The present oxygen furnaces produce only 600 tons in six to eight hours, in comparison, Jones said.

He explained continuous casting briefly:

"A vessel is loaded with scrap steel, molten iron and slag-forming limestone and is treated with a jet of 99 per cent pure oxygen at 2900 degrees Fahrenheit to burn off the impurities.

"The iron flows into another ladle of 350 tons capacity on a floor that raises and lowers. A snorkel dips out the molten steel into an evacuated chamber known as a degasser vessel, which boils off the gasses to produce a finer grade of steel.

"The molten steel flows into another ladle, and the hot metal is released through a funnel, ending its descent as slabs." The equipment will be capable of casting slabs up to a maximum of nine inches in thickness and 40 inches in width.

In addition, the new plant will contain facilities for auxiliary services, including molten pig-iron reception and handling, scrap preparation and handling and storage for other raw materials.

JONES ALSO disclosed that the basic oxygen furnace plant will include the most advanced type of fume control equipment as part of Weirton Steel's air improvement program now in progress. "The air in Weirton will be as clean as the air in East Liverpool by 1966," Jones asserted.

Turning to employment, Jones said the Weirton plant has added 1,339 persons to its work force since Jan. 1, through the recall of employees who have been on "lay off" and the hiring of regular and temporary employees. Total work force at the end of July was nearly 12,500.

More than 200 college students were hired as temporary employees for the summer months.

The company payroll each Wednesday amounts to $1,700,000, and in one week in April the mill paid out $8,945,000, of which $6,020,000 was in vacation pay, Jones said.

Under the extended vacation plan which began this year in the steel industry, 50 per cent of production and maintenance employees at Weirton with the greatest seniority are eligible for an extended paid vacation of 13 weeks, including regular vacation, once every five years. Other vacations are figured on years of service. National Steel also has an extended vacation plan for its salaried employees, Jones said.

Reiterating an earlier announcement by George A. Stinson, president of National Steel, Jones said National's earnings in 1964 will exceed last year's $63.7 million, or $4.12 a share.

CAPITAL spending this year is expected to run around $75 million, up from $36 million in 1963. National has announced it will spend $275 million in three to five years, most likely in three. This is the first year of the program.

While the continuous casting process will bypass the traditional "ingot" from the glossary of steel technique, it will apparently be a springboard to other developments.

Sales reached a record high for the first six months of 1964. Although the sales total reflects a gain of only 3 per cent over sales in the record first half of 1963, net income increased by approximately 17 per cent, Jones related.

This apparently ties in with a new steel products warehouse being built in Weirton. The building in the Half-Moon industrial complex near the Ohio River will be one of the largest of its type—eight acres under one roof of steel-construction.

National is also building a new warehouse in Portage, Ind., and has acquired two warehousing companies with units in Evanston, Ill., and Lyndhurst, N.J.

Jones displayed photos of the new general offices on Weirton Heights, adjoining a research center staffed by 100 scientists and technicians that serves National. The research center contains miniature rolling mills, a coke plant, etc., and Jones invited the club for a tour.

The speaker was introduced by George A. Shaw, program chairman. Guests included Robert Rine of the Weirton Steel, president of the Weirton Rotary Club, George Schweitzer of Weirton, and Judge Paul Brown of the 7th District Court of Appeals. Alvin T. Babb, president, presided.

Chester Street Resurfacing Due

The Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton moved equipment into Chester today and was to begin work on the summer program of street repair, barring heavy rain.

The concern was awarded a $3,726.30 contract by Chester City Council July 11 for seal-coating of six streets.

Percy Willison, chairman of the street and light committee of Council, said the concern planned to begin work in the upper end of the city, blacktopping the route of the old street-car tracks on Phoenix Ave. from 9th to 11th Sts.

Other streets due for repair are 6th St. from Indiana Ave. to Florida Ave., Virginia Ave. from 3rd St. to Adolphus St., Lytton Ave. to Virginia Ave., Adolphus St. to Virginia Ave., and 4th St. from Carolina Ave. to Indiana Ave.

Ed Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves began the 1964 season as the active home run leader. He had hit 422, three more than Mickey Mantle and 16 more than Willie Mays.

ings accounting for the remainder. Utility costs are not included in the figures.

In the period from 1959-63, Westgate School, largest in the city, required $6,605 for painting, plumbing, heating, electrical and roofing repairs while $38,639 was spent on the high school building alone.

Glenmoor, $15,694, and Pleasant Heights, $10,644, for $26,338. Lincoln, $31,200; McKinley, $16,924, and Taft, $5,774, for a total of $53,899 for North Side schools.

Besides the $6,605 spent at Westgate, the maintenance costs at the other newer buildings included $9,687 at the East Junior and $1,845 at LaCroft.

Vindicator Printers, Mailers Ordered Back

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Printers and mailers of the strike-bound Youngstown Vindicator have been ordered to cross the American Newspaper Guild picket lines and return to work.

The order was issued Tuesday in a telegram from International Typographical Union president Elmer Brown.

The Guild, representing 110 editorial, classified and newly organized circulation department employees, struck Aug. 18 in a dispute over a new contract for 42 circulation men.

Chester

leased until the construction is either one-third or one-fourth completed.

It also sets up legislation concerning first and second liens of the Magnuson Co., bonding agent, on the water and sewer systems. Magnuson Co. already has a first lien on the present water system.

Basically, in the new financial structure, Magnuson Co. would secure a first lien on the new sewage system, and a second lien on the new water system. Once the water system is paid off, the first lien would revert to a second lien, and this plan has been described as "strengthening the investment" of the bonding company on the systems, a point of controversy in Council.

The amount of the city's share of the cost has been proposed at either $357,000 or $347,000.

Council earlier awarded W. E. Downie Co. of Poland a $181,000 contract to build the sewage treatment plant in the City Park area, and the R. K. McKee Co. of Columbiana a $151,000 contract for the interceptor sewer system.

Second reading of the ordinances is slated at next Tuesday's meeting.

ant, formally moved that the charge be dismissed.

The hearing was set for 3 p.m. yesterday but was delayed for a while when Squire Herron, county coroner, was called to investigate a death in Weirton Heights. Ben Lake died of carbon monoxide fumes while in his car in his garage.

Mr., Mrs., Robert Garner 'At Home' After Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Robert David Garner have returned from a honeymoon at Skyline Drive, Va., and are residing at 139 Thompson Ave., following their marriage the evening of Aug. 7 at 6:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

The bride was Miss Charlene Lynn Lanning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vance Lanning, 743 Minerva St., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Robert Garner, 1012 May St.

The Rev. Irwin E. Jennings, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony which included the ritual of sealing the wedding band with a kiss. The altar was banked with white gladioli and purple asters and palms and ferns. Lavender tapers in branched candelabra completed the setting. The family pews were marked with lavender satin bows.

Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman, organist of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, played a half-hour recital of wedding music. Mrs. Norman V. Lanning Jr. sang "O Perfect Love" and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline, long, pointed sleeves and Empire waistline. Large, re-embroidered Alencon lace medallions added accent. The controlled skirt was designed with smaller medallions on the front, with a tiny self-bow at the back, which cascaded into a full train.

Her queen's crown of pearls and Alencon lace, highlighted with crystals, held her elbow-length veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and carnations tied with streamers accented with lovers' knots.

Miss Judy Way of Pittsburgh was maid of honor and wore a sheath of lilac pea de soie styled with a white lace coat. Her headpiece was a caggage rose with illusion veil.

Mrs. Marilyn Williams and Miss Betsy Garner, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids and appeared in lavender sheaths of pea de soie and white lace coats and picture hats. The headpieces were designed by Mrs. Mary Broadbent.

All the attendants carried white satin parasols with flowers extending from the top and cascading down. Miss Way had sterling roses and white carnations and Mrs. Williams and Miss Garner, purple asters, white rosebuds and miniature carnations. They received gold overlay heart necklaces, with blue forget-me-nots centered with a cultured pearl, from the bride, and inscribed ash trays from the principals.

James Ralston of Wellsville was best man. Ushers were Charles Overly of Pittsburgh, and Norman V. Lanning Jr. of Racine, Wis., brother of the bride. They received tie-tacs and leather wallets and inscribed ash trays.

The mothers of the principals chose sheaths of pea de soie. Mrs. Lanning in pink and Mrs. Garner, in blue, topped with white lace coats. Their matching pillbox hats were designed by Mrs. Broadbent. White accessories and corsages of sterling roses complemented their attire.

A reception for 300 followed in the social rooms. The four-tier cake, which centered the buffet table, was topped with a nylon net sphere, made by Mrs. Broadbent, containing a love bird holding two wedding rings. Sterling silver Candelabra, encircled with lilac and lavender maline, held lavender tapers.

Aides were Mrs. James Ralston, Mrs. James Migliore, Mrs. Richard Crawford, Mrs. Charles Kittridge Jr., Mrs. Lyle Litteel, Mrs. Homer Mercer and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boso.

Other guests, registered by William Blakeley, cousin of the bride, were from Columbus, Chagrin Falls, Canton, Weirton and Dallas, Tex.

For traveling, the bride wore a black and white knit suit with black patent accessories and her bridal corsage. She also wore a sterling silver charm bracelet with a silver heart, the gift of the bridegroom.

The bride was graduated in 1959 from East Liverpool High School and in 1962 from Robert Morris Junior College at Pittsburgh. She is employed as secretary to Safety Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

Her husband, a 1956 graduate of the high school, was graduated in 1961 from the University of Pittsburgh School of Pharmacy. He is affiliated with Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity and employed at Culp's Pharmacy in Wellsville.

The bridegroom's parents entertained for the rehearsal dinner party at Platt's Tea Room in Wellsville. Miniature wedding party dolls, dressed identical to the attire of the bridal party, centered the table.

Akron Petitions Ask Vote On Fair Housing

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Opponents of the city's fair housing ordinance have filed petitions with the Summit County Board of Elections asking for a Nov. 3 vote to determine if the law should remain in effect. If there are 8,150 valid signatures, City Council must put the issue on the ballot.

The ordinance bans discrimination in the sale or rental of property. Opponents of the law are asking for a vote on an amendment to the city charter which would require any ordinance dealing with fair housing to go to a vote of the people before it could become law.

Pittsburgh Girl Becomes Bride Of Irondale Man

Miss Maida McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Omslear of Pittsburgh, became the bride of James R. Ferry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ferry of Saline St., Irondale, on Aug. 14 in St. Paul's Church in Pittsburgh.

The bride's mother wore a black dress and hat and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a Navy blue dress, both with white accessories.

A buffet luncheon at the home of the bride's mother followed the ceremony.

The bride wore a blue seersucker suit for a honeymoon trip to Ocean City, Md., and Rehoboth, Del.

The bride is an insurance claims adjuster and the bridegroom is a teacher at Willoughby. He is a graduate of Stanton Local High School and of Youngstown University and served four years with the Army.

The couple will reside in Euclid following their honeymoon.

Blast On Truck

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dynamite exploding on a pickup truck on Interstate 70 north of here Tuesday night sent flames shooting 400 feet into the air and across all four lanes of the superhighway.

No injuries were reported from the explosions, touched off by a fire in the rear of the truck.

The truck driver, Thurman J. Bishop, 58, of Nelsonville, pulled off onto the shoulder of the westbound lane when he noticed the fire. He ran from the truck and about 10 minutes later the first, and largest, explosion occurred.

A highway patrolman a half-mile down the road said he felt the shock of the blast. Homes in the area were rocked but no damage was reported. Several smaller explosions followed the first one.

Traffic had halted when the burning truck and its load were seen, and no motorists were endangered, officials said.

Penn State's top football scorer of last fall was kicking specialist Ron Coates. He kicked five field goals and 18 extra points for 33 points. He returns next fall.

Goldwater Says
He's Planning
Ohio Campaign

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee, says he'll return to Ohio to campaign after Sept. 25, possibly on several occasions.

"Republicans in Ohio are on the optimistic side—that is the way I am," the Arizona senator told newsmen Tuesday after addressing the 65th national Veterans of Foreign Wars convention in Cleveland Public Hall.

Goldwater advised an estimated 7,000 in his audience to prepare for word of "a negotiated peace" in South Viet Nam. If negotiators agree to neutralize the southeast Asian nation now beset by Red guerrillas, he said, it would be an open door to Communist infiltration.

Goldwater got an enthusiastic reception from VFW delegates and street crowds during his 2½-hour visit after which he left for a six-day California vacation.

Small Trash Blaze Burns Phone Cable

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—A small trash fire in the corner of an alley Tuesday afternoon burned a telephone cable and all long distance communications in and out of the city were cut off.

Besides telephone and toll service, local businesses had no teletype service and the newspaper and radio station were cut off from their Associated Press news wire service. Fire Chief George Hall put out the fire with an extinguisher.

Firm Pays $833,000 For Turnpike Plaza

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—B & B Construction Co. paid $833,000 at a Mahoning County sheriff's sale Tuesday for a turnpike plaza at the entrance to the Ohio Turnpike's Route 7 interchange at North Lima.

The property was owned by the Mid-Way Service Centers, Inc. and included adjoining industrial acreage on the 16-acre parcel. On the property are a service station and garage, a 42-unit motel, and a restaurant seating 150 people with 12 office spaces upstairs. The plaza was built and opened last year and went into receivership in March.

Bakery Strike Ends In Pact Ratification

CLEVELAND (AP) — Production at the Kroger Bakery in suburban Solon is expected to resume tonight, following ratification of a contract which provides 34-cent wage increases over the next three years and health insurance fringe benefits.

Members of bakery workers Local 19 voted 176 to 31 Tuesday to ratify the contract, ending a strike that began Aug. 8.

Pizarro Blanks Twins As Indians Edge Orioles, 5-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Juan Pizarro has been a potential 20-game winner since he started throwing rocks in Santurce, P.R., 11 years ago.
Al Lopez is betting a World Series ticket that the White Sox left-hander makes the charmed circle in 1964.
Pizarro pitched Chicago to within a game of first place Tuesday night when he blanked Minnesota 1-0 on a masterful five-hitter. The victory was No. 17, tops in the American League, for the 27-year-old fireballer and the shutout lowered his earned run average to a brilliant 2.00.

He has never been this close to the 20-victory mark before, though tagged "another Bob Feller" before he had thrown a pitch in anger in the major leagues.
Juan started the 1954 Winter League season as the Santurce club's batboy but wound up on the pitching staff when he discovered he could fling rocks harder than the team's pitchers could throw baseballs.
Two years later he was Milwaukee's prize farmhand, striking out 318 batters for the Braves' Jacksonville club in the old Sally League. The Braves had paid Santurce $35,000 for his contract, but they never got a return on their investment.
Pizarro and the Milwaukee management suffered through four seasons with equally unimpressive results.
Finally, in 1960, the Braves traded him to the White Sox and Lopez made him reclamation project No. 1. Pizarro has been a winner ever since.
Elsewhere in the AL Tuesday night, Cleveland upended league-leading Baltimore 5-3; third place New York topped Washington 4-1; Los Angeles defeated Kansas City 5-3 and Detroit slugged Boston 11-6.
Pizarro, 17-6, pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the top of the ninth before the White Sox broke through lefty Dick Stigman in the bottom of the inning.

Stigman checked the Sox on three hits until Jim Landis led off the ninth with a single. One out later, Floyd Robinson singled, Bill Skowron lined out before Ron Hansen broke it up with a run-scoring hit to left.
It was the 10th complete game and fourth shutout for Pizarro, who was a spring holdout until March 25, but got off to the best start of his career, reeling off five successive victories.
The Indians struck for five runs in the eighth inning, the last three on Bob Chance's two-run homer and Leon Wagner's solo shot, to overtake Baltimore.
Orioles starter Milt Pappas gave up Cleveland's fourth hit of the game, a double to Tito Francona, and walked Woody Held before being replaced by Harvey Haddix in the eighth. Max Alvis' pinch single scored one run, Chico Salmon singled, loading the bases, and the second run crossed while Dick Howser was grounding into a double play. Then Chance and Wagner connected back-to-back.
Luis Aparicio's two-run homer had helped the Orioles to a 2-0 lead.
Whitey Ford won his first game since July 15 when the Yankees came from behind with four runs in the eighth. Mickey Mantle's third hit of the night, a two-run double, was the key blow.

Ford worked eight innings, leaving for a pinch hitter in the Yankees' winning rally. Al Downing nailed down the victory by fanning the side in the ninth.
Dean Chance picked up his 15th victory of the season as the Angels did all their scoring in the fifth inning, with singles by Bobby Knoop, Albie Pearson and Lou Clinton, plus a bases-loaded walk and wild pitch delivering the runs.
Bob Lee relieved Chance in the seventh, when the Athletics scored their last two runs on Doc Edwards' single, Bert Campaneris' triple and a pinch single by Manny Jimenez.
Don Demeter's three-run homer in the sixth paced Detroit's 15-hit attack against the Red Sox. Demeter's 18th circuit broke a 6-6 tie and the Tigers wrapped it up with two more in the seventh after Carl Yastrzemski's two-base error opened the gate.
Dick McAuliffe also homered for Detroit while Dick Stuart, Ed Bressoud and Bob Tillman connected for the Red Sox.

Bucs Lose, Slip To 2nd Division

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Howie Reed doesn't win very often. In fact, his pitching victories are so well spaced out he might even pass for a Met.
But when the 27-year-old right-hander does get around to winning one, he does it in convincing fashion — and he makes the licking hurt.
Reed, who hadn't won in the majors since 1958, got around to it again Tuesday night. He fashioned a six-hitter — with ninth inning help — for the Los Angeles Dodgers and beat San Francisco's struggling Giants 3-1.
The loss dropped the Giants into third place and left them 6½ games behind National League leading Philadelphia, a deficit that becomes more imposing each day.
Cincinnati took over second place, rapping the New York Mets 7-2 behind the six-hit pitching of Bob Purkey while Philadelphia took a 7-5 licking from Milwaukee for the Braves' second straight over the league leaders.
Houston held off Chicago 5-4 and Lou Brock's 13th inning homer sealed St. Louis' 7-6 verdict over Pittsburgh in the other games.
Reed, whose last major league triumph was a 2-1 decision over the Chicago White Sox while pitching with Kansas City Sept. 23, 1958, was in top form against the Giants.
He allowed only five hits through the first seven innings, gave up another in the eighth, then weakened in the ninth. With one out, he issued walks to Chuck Hiller and Matty Alou.
Ron Perranoski came on to get one out and Bob Miller was called in to strike out Willie Mays and end the game. It was only Los Angeles' fourth victory over San Francisco in 15 games this year, but it left the Giants with an overwhelming task in attempting to overtake Philadelphia.
For example, if the Phillies play anywhere near their current pace, they'd wind up with 98 victories. To catch them, the Giants would have to win 28 of their remaining 36 games.
The Mets got two runs — on Ron Hunt's homer — before Purkey got anyone out, but he shut them out the rest of the way. Frank Robinson doubled in two runs and Deron Johnson doubled in three more for all the working room Purkey needed.
The Braves built an early lead on homers by Eddie Mathews and Lee Maye, then held off Philadelphia's late rally. Braves right-hander Tony Cloninger held the Phillies to three hits over the first seven innings, but the Phils chased him in the eighth, scoring three runs on two singles, a fielders choice and Johnny Callison's homer.
St. Louis had blown a 4-0 lead, then come from behind 6-4 before Brock settled their long struggle with Pittsburgh with his homer. Veteran Smoky Burgess drove in two Pittsburgh runs with a pinch single in the top of the 12th, but the Cards matched them in the bottom of the inning.
Bob Aspromonte drove in one run with a double, another with a sacrifice fly and scored a third as Houston jumped on rookie John Flavin for five runs in the first 2-1-3 innings, then held on against the Cubs.

Potter Coach Speaks To Nonpareil Group

Bob McNea, Potter football coach was guest speaker at the Blue and White Nonpareil Club meeting Tuesday when 30 members were present.
The club voted to change its meeting night to Wednesday when McNea would screen movies of the Potter games to the Nonpareil Club and Lady Potter Boosters Club. The public also is invited to watch the game movies.
McNea explained the movies would be shown only once on Wednesday because Monday and Tuesday are his most important days of practice. In the past, the movies were shown to the Ladies Club on Monday and the Nonpareil Club on Tuesday.
George Hargraves, assistant superintendent, spoke to the club on the school bond issue.

The club voted unanimously to endorse the school levy.
A parade, kicking off the 1964 season, will be sponsored by the club Sept. 10 beginning at 7:30. East Liverpool's first game is Sept. 12 with Beaver Local.

Boxing Group Will Convene

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A majority of the early arrivals to the World Boxing Association convention this week favor outlawing the proposed Liston-Clay rematch.
Pre-convention talks with delegates also indicate there will be a floor fight over the WBA's suspension of Sonny Liston after he lost the world heavyweight boxing title to Cassius Clay.
James E. Deskin, executive secretary of the Nevada State Athletic Commission, said Tuesday he plans to take the floor at the convention Thursday and challenge the WBA's suspension of Liston. He maintains that the WBA did not have the authority

Giant's McElhenny With Pro Gridders Out Of Job

By The Associated Press
Hugh McElhenny can't recall the last time he went job-hunting in August.
The King has had steady autumn employment for almost 20 years, the last 12 as a living legend in the National Football League.
Today, however, 36-year-old McElhenny heads a group of disappointed gridders faced with a professional dead-end. The one-time All-America and All-Pro halfback was among some 50 veterans and rookies sliced from National and American League squads Tuesday.
The NFL clubs trimmed their rosters to 45 men, the AFL to 43. Both leagues have until Sept. 8, a week before their season kickoffs, to make the final limits of 40 (NFL) and 34 (AFL).
McElhenny, who has gained over 10,000 yards since his Rookie of the Year debut with the San Francisco 49ers in 1952, was surprised when the New York Giants made his release part of a wholesale shake-up.
A second King, Vanderbilt alumnus Phil, was traded to Pittsburgh for a future draft choice while Joe Don Looney, the Giants' No. 1 draft pick this year, went to Baltimore in a five-player swap. The Colts also got tackle Lou Koric and a future draft selection. The Giants received two veterans — pass catcher R. C. Owens and defensive back Andy Nelson.
The Giants cut five other players, including Glynn Griff-

Venturi Shooting At $35,000 Prize

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Arnold Palmer has the putting "yips", Jack Nicklaus has a crook in his elbow, and Ken Venturi has nothing but confidence and an uncanny feeling for the flag.
So it's Venturi, the reigning National Open champion, and not the Big Two who will be favored when 155 golfers from 14 nations tee off Thursday in the first $200,000 Carling World Championship.
First prize in the 72-hole, four-day test is $35,000, a year's salary for many top executives, and it's the kind of purse which usually brings out the best in the blacksmith-strong Palmer and power-driving Nicklaus.
However, both are off top form — Palmer on the putting greens and Nicklaus on the tees — while Venturi is currently the hottest article on the circuit.
After three years of frustration during which he almost gave up the game, the 33-year-old picture swinger from San Francisco found himself in the National Open last June in Washington's suffocating heat. His confidence has been soaring ever since.
Venturi won the American Golf Classic at Akron, Ohio, last week by a record five shots and with a record tournament score of 275.

Tuning up for the event here over the 6,907-yard, par 70 Oakland Hills course he had four straight birdies on the front nine for a four-under-par 31, then birdied the 11th and eagled the 566-yard 12th to go seven under.
"I started thinking then that this was just a practice run, and I didn't want to get a monkey on my back before the tournament started," Ken said. "So I stuffed off a few holes and finished with about 67."
"I am playing so well, I am so sure of myself on shots to the green that it startles me," Palmer, who has had four second places and two thirds in his last six tournaments, continued to experiment with beat up, lead-headed putters without finding a satisfactory one.
"From five feet in, I used to never miss a putt," Palmer said. "Now I miss them, and it's costing me."
Nicklaus, also beaten out in recent tournaments although he continues as the year's leading money winner, thinks he has found the reason for his erratic driving.
"I was crooking my left arm," he said. "I even noticed that my divots were hooking."

2 Teams Tie For First In Women's Golf Event

It was tie or no count in Tuesday's Amateur - Amateur event for women at the East Liverpool Country Club.
There was a deadlock for first place when the teams of Mrs. Gordon Weese and Mrs. Joseph Wells finished with 69's. Two teams tied for second with 70's and two other squads finished in a dead heat for third with 72's.
Members of Mrs. Weese team included Mrs. Everson Hall, Mrs. J. M. Koos and Mrs. J. E. Mountford while Mrs. Wells captained a team of Mrs. W. L. Smith, Mrs. W. J. Horgor and Mrs. Okey Ludwig. Both teams shot 34-35-69.
A boys and girls junior tournament will be held Thursday and Friday mornings with nine holes of medal play. The first

'My Greatest Thrill'

1949 Victory 'Tore Up' Holcomb Resignation

Stuart K. (Stu) Holcomb, author of the following, was Ohio State University's football captain in 1931, formerly coached at Purdue, and currently is athletic director at Northwestern University.

By STU HOLCOMB
For The Associated Press

Over a period of 24 years of coaching, nine years as a director of athletics, and eight years as a player, I am sure you realize there must have been more than 100 things I considered a great thrill.

As I think about it, each one seems to take precedence over the other.

However, perhaps one that stands out most in my mind was Purdue's victory over Minnesota in 1949 by a 13-7 score—a game which knocked Minnesota out of the Rose Bowl. This was important to me because it involved not only myself, but my family, too.

Purdue had lost four games in a row. I had already written a letter of resignation to President Frederick L. Hovde, thinking in my own mind that coaching was not for me any further. My family, which numbered three, was taking the usual beating from fellow students and friends.

I delayed sending the letter, since it was the Thursday preceding the Minnesota game. We were 30-point underdogs. Several of our key boys were hurt. The outlook was just a bit dark.

Our only hope to even look good while losing was a little fellow by the name of Zlyborski —and he was a very unpredictable performer.

But he was a great one that day. With a team made up of the likes of Tonamaker and Nomaline, Zlyborski gained more than 130 yards, scored two touchdowns, and whipped Minnesota all by himself, 13 to 7.

While waiting for the plane to take us back to Lafayette, I had time to call Betty at home—and I told her to tear up my letter of resignation.

She could hardly hear me, for outside our door were some 3,000 yelling students, but she tore up the letter just before the students broke in, placed her and the kids in a car and staged a victory celebration and parade throughout the town.

Oh, for the life of a winning coach!

Malaysia Curfew Set To Trap Indonesians

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Authorities slapped a 24-hour curfew on a 200-square-mile region of Malaysia's mainland today in an effort to trap Indonesian invaders who may have escaped the cordon drawn around their landing zone.

The new curfew area is along the southwest coast of Johore State, north of Pontian where 100 armed raiders reportedly slipped ashore Aug. 17.

Success Of First Place Orioles Is 'Team Effort,' Manager Claims

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There are a number of reasons for the lofty American League perch currently enjoyed by the Baltimore Orioles. Most are apparent.

There's the clutch hitting of third baseman Brooks Robinson and the slugging of now injured Boog Powell and rookie outfielder Sam Bowens.

The spectacular rise of 19-year-old bonus pitcher Wally Bunker.

The continued comeback of veteran right-hander Robin Roberts.

The stonewall defense of the infield led by Robinson and shortstop Luis Aparicio.

The team's ability to win a vast majority of the close games.

But the current success of the Orioles in their determined bid to nail down their first championship since Baltimore's return to the major leagues in 1954 is traced deeper than that which appears on the surface.

It is gleaned from something said by skipper Hank Bauer, a top candidate for Manager of the Year honors. It is deduced from some words from Robinson, in line for the Most Valuable Player award.

"Pitching, especially relief, and defense have been our strength so far," said Bauer. "but the reason we're in first place is something much bigger than what any figures or records can possibly show."

"The biggest thing about this club is that they are not playing as individuals. They are playing as a team. They sacrifice themselves. They help each other."

As a team, the Orioles are batting in the vicinity of only .250. Six clubs have hit more home runs. But Baltimore is in first.

The figures accentuate the lack of trend toward a star system. Only Robinson among regulars is hitting over .300. Only Powell and Robinson have hit 20 or more home runs. But the Orioles can score when it counts — they've won 29 of 39 games decided by one run.

"The guys are hustling and not making mistakes," said Bauer. "And they pick each other up. Another thing, they don't need to be prodded and pushed."

"We don't have any superstars but everybody is doing his job. They grind it out each day."

"In a way these guys remind me of the Yankee teams I used to play with. They don't say much but you can tell that they feel they can win."

"Do I think we'll win the pennant? Well, it's going to be a three-team race right down to the wire."

The Oriole players, unfettered by managerial diplomacy and caution, emphatically believe they will win.

"No doubt about it," smiled pitching star Milt Pappas — as he knocked on wood.

Upset Over 1963 Season

Lombardi Driving Packers Harder Than Ever Before

GREEN BAY
By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST DE PERE, Wis. (AP) — Vince Lombardi has the whip out this year. Aroused by two defeats at the hands of the Chicago Bears, and loss of the NFL title, Lombardi is driving his Green Bay Packers as they never have been driven before.

"The first Bear game last year was the biggest disappointment of my career," said Lombardi at the training camp at St. Norbert College. "We couldn't have beaten them in the second game with blackjacks, but we should have won the first."

"We are looking forward to this year. I have been driving the boys hard. We will be in physical condition. But the big thing is pride in your work. . . . the intangibles, the abstracts. You never know about that until the games start."

Paul Hornung was the first to feel the sting of Lombardi's hard approach of 1964. The Golden Boy, reinstated after a one-year suspension for betting on games, was ordered to report in April. Running up and down the steps of the Packers' stadium puffed off the pounds so that Hornung goes into the season at 212 pounds, six below his weight in 1962.

"We'll sink or swim with Hornung," said Lombardi, coach.

general manager of the Packers. "Paul is in fine condition mentally and physically. The rest is up to him."

Lombardi may throw three running backs at National Football League opposition in some games. Tom Moore, who did a fine job as Hornung's replacement, has been worked as a slot back or flanker.

Jim Taylor appears to have recovered completely from the hepatitis that handicapped him during the early games last season. With Taylor booming up the middle and Hornung and Moore to run to the outside, the Packers' ground attack should be the best in the league.

Bart Starr will operate a ball-control offense, copied so successfully by the Bears last year. Bart has fine targets in Max McGee at split end, tight end Ron Kramer and Boyd Dowler at flanker but also likes to throw to his backs more than most quarterbacks. Hornung, Moore and Taylor all are good receivers.

Lombardi thinks he has come up with a real hot prospect in Dennis Claridge, a rookie quarterback from Nebraska.

Originally Claridge was drafted as a running back but he has thrown the ball so effectively that Lombardi now says, "We may groom him for quarterback in a couple of years." Zeke Bratkowski is the veteran back-up man for Starr.

The front offensive line will be the same except for Bob Skoronski, formerly a tackle, who takes over Jim Ringo's old job at center. Fuzzy Thurston and Jerry Kramer are the guards and Norm Masters and Forrest Gregg the tackles.

Lee Roy Caffey, who came from Philadelphia in the deal for Earl Gros and Ringo, is giving Dan Currie a battle for a linebacker job. Ray Nitschke is set at middle linebacker and Dave Robinson on the right side.

The front four of Willie Davis, Dave (Hawg) Hanner, Henry Jordan and Lionel Aldridge is intact. So is the deep backfield defense of Herb Adderley and Jesse Whitenton at the corners and Hank Gremminger and Willie Wood at safety.

Mantle's Key Hit Keeps NY In Contention

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — They've just about run out of superlatives for Mickey Mantle. Even Whitey Ford, his New York teammate and best friend, shrugs his shoulders and says: "What can you say new about him? It's already been said 100 times."

But Mantle never runs out of heroics. Each day, it seems, the crippled star comes through with a standout performance that either starts a rally, keeps one going or breaks up the game.

Mantle breathed new life into the third-place Yankees Tuesday night and had Manager Yogi Berra once more talking hopefully of a pennant.

It was Mickey's bases-loaded double for two runs in the eighth inning that overcame a 1-0 Washington advantage and led to a 4-1 Yankee triumph. Sweetening the victory was Cleveland's comeback 5-3 victory over Baltimore, trimming the Orioles' first-place lead over the third-place Yankees to four games.

"We're just a different team with Mick in there," said Ford "whether he's 100 per cent or only 50 per cent."

He could hardly run over the weekend in Boston but all the guys wanted him in the lineup."

Mantle, who re-injured his left knee in Baltimore, missed the entire series in Chicago where the Yankees dropped all four to the White Sox. Still hobbling, he returned to the lineup in Boston and, in his second start, got the Yankees back on the winning trail with a two-run homer. He homered again the next day when the Yankees won 4-3.

Pitching coach Gordon Maltzberger of the Minnesota Twins pitched nine innings without a decision as a rookie for Los Angeles when the Angels were in the Pacific Coast League.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Maybe I can help that girl who doesn't know what to do about her boy friend's eyebrows. She was terribly distressed because his eyebrows grew together and it looked as if he had one long eyebrow instead of two.

My boy friend had the same problem, and this is what he did — had his head split right above the nose and it separated his eyebrows beautifully. The only problem now is that his brains keep falling into his eyes.

Honestly, Ann Landers, I used to think you were funny. Now I think you are nuts. With all the crushing problems you must receive from tortured people, you go and print one like that. — BROOKLYN.

Dear Brooklyn: Yes, I do deal with thousands of crushing problems but who wants to read a steady stream of crushing problems 365 days a year?

The eyebrow dilemma provided a change of pace. I appreciate such letters and I believe my readers do, too, and that's why I'm printing your response. Thank you.

Part-Time Mate

Dear Ann: I know you are a level-headed person and I need your advice. I've been through so much I can't think straight anymore.

We have been married 17 years and have four children. Two years ago Barney moved out and went to live with a woman who is 10 years younger than I am. I knew he was seeing her and I couldn't stand the lipstick-smearing handkerchiefs and the lies any longer. I told him to leave.

He came home every Sunday and spent the day with the children. Usually he stayed through supper. They love him so much it is heartbreaking.

Last week he asked if he could come home for good. I said, "Yes, if you are ready to settle down." He replied, "I would like to spend weekends with her and break off gradually."

I told him I'd think about it. Ann, my children need a father and I need a husband. Should I settle? — BATTLE SCARED.

Dear Scared: If you agree to a shuttle service and a part-time husband you are inviting a full-time headache.

It's apparent your Rover Boy is losing interest in the other woman. Tell him when he is ready to come home, and behave like a husband and father, you will be happy to have him, but so long as he wants to engage in extra-curricular activities he can keep his clothes in somebody else's closet.

Undisciplined

Dear Ann: School will be starting again soon. Our youngest child will be entering the fifth grade. The teacher has done things my husband and I considered appalling.

Our middle child was in Miss V's room two years ago. One day she gave every child in the class a tablespoon of patent medicine. When our child came home and told us about it we were furious. My husband begged me not to report the teacher to the principal for fear she might take it out on our youngest.

Another time, in an attempt to impress the students with the importance of safe driving, she showed the class some pieces of glass stained with blood. A member of her family had been involved in an accident. Our child came home ill.

What should we do — if anything? VERMONT PARENTS.

Dear Parents: If the patent medicine story is true and you did nothing about it there's something wrong with you — as well as the teacher.

That glass bit is positively gruesome. And you did nothing about that, either? For heaven's sake, round up some other parents and go together to see the principal.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

New Trustee Elected By Chester Group

One new trustee was elected and all officers returned for one-year terms when the Locust Hill Cemetery Lot Owners Association met Monday with Paul Johnston, 229 Virginia Ave., Chester.

Earl Cunningham was elected a new trustee of the association, succeeding Lloyd Brewer. Re-elected for new one-year terms are Albert Kell, president; Thomas A. Cunningham, vice president; A. Earl Wilson, secretary - treasurer, and Charles F. Pugh, caretaker.

Holdover trustees are Mayor Harry Abrams, Kell, Thomas Cunningham, Wilson, John M. Cunningham and Johnston.

A meeting of the Board of Trustees followed, and Mayor Abrams was re-elected chairman, and Wilson as secretary.

treasurer for new one-year terms.

Mayor Abrams was instructed to contact the Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry on a plan to apply new seal-coating to driveways in the cemetery. The caretaker was instructed to repair the cemetery building, including repair of the roof, installation of new windows and doors, and painting. The cemetery association was organized in 1901 and Wilson has been a member since Aug. 3, 1918. A total of 3,238 burials have been made at the cemetery as of June 30. There were 53 burials from June 30, 1963, to June 30 this year.

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Wayne, Burtch, 18, of Rt. 1, Vickers, was killed early today when his car left a rural road east of here. Sheriff's deputies said the car overturned after leaving Wahl Road. Burtch was pinned under the car.

Trespasser Draws Fine

A Chester man was fined $25 and costs and given a suspended 30-day jail term today in Municipal Court for trespassing on the former Salvation Army citadel on W. 3rd St.

David Ronald Roberts of Ferry Rd. was given the suspended jail term by Judge Samuel M.

Chertoff pending good behavior. Judge Chertoff also ordered Roberts' $1,000 bond released.

Roberts was taken into custody at 5:43 p.m. Tuesday by Patrolman L. E. Richard after Maj. William Hathorn, Salvation Army Commander, notified police he was driving past the former citadel, now used by the Salvation Army for storage, and saw a man putting articles in his car.

Officer Richards told the court today Roberts had about $40 worth of articles in his car, including a pressure cooker, cookingpan, blankets, sheets, blow torch, baby dolls, Christmas wrapping paper and miscellaneous items.

Represented by Atty. Ben H. Berman, Roberts pleaded guilty to the trespassing charge but said his son was told by an unidentified man the building was to be torn down and the articles were free for the taking.

Financial Firm Pays $1,130,160 For Bank Stock

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Union Financial Corp. paid $1,130,160 for 27,734 shares, or 70 percent of the Port Clinton, Ohio, National Bank's stock at an auction held by the Cleveland Trust Co.

The price at the auction Tuesday was $40.75 a share. This is 75 cents more than the Investment Life Insurance of America paid for the stock last December.

Union Financial also has agreed to buy 6,933 shares of bank stock now owned by ILICA, said Asst. Atty. Gen. Nat. Lefton, who represents Ohio Insurance Supt. William R. Morris.

A Franklin County court appointed Morris conservator of ILICA after Morris alleged the financially shaky insurance outfit had been mismanaged. The ILICA Co., a holding company formed by the officers of the insurance firm, owed Cleveland Trust for a $1,138,568 loan.

DUCKLING

Duck is a versatile bird with fine flavor and tenderness. It can be broiled, oven-roasted, braised, or even grilled outdoors. Cook it whole or in pieces. Plan on one pound per person.

Fruit-flavored stuffing is particularly good with duck. Add prunes, apples, oranges, apricots, or cranberries to bread stuffing. Don't throw away the cooked carcass: use with leftovers for duck chowder.

Political Terms Confuse Layman

By JIM BECKER
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The layman is often confused by the terms used at a political convention.

Actually, they all are quite simple when you understand them. Here are some of the terms heard frequently this week around the Democratic convention and their simple explanations:

Delegation — This is a group of 132 people who come to the convention to cast 12 votes. Included are all persons in the state who contributed more than $1,000 to the party in the last year, and all persons in the state who know what happened to the delegates. There are also three men who are able to breathe in smoke-filled rooms.

Delegate — A member of a delegation. Each delegate casts about 1/16th of a vote — less in some states — whenever he is asked, which is seldom.

Caucus — A meeting of a delegation called to cast votes and decide important questions. All members of the delegations attend except the officers, who are busy at a meeting of party leaders casting votes and deciding important questions.

Ladies Of Convention Spend Day At Races

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Frowning over their form sheets like Lyndon B. Johnson trying to pick a vice president, the ladies of the Democratic National Convention spent a day at the races.

"I can't remember whether my husband told me to put two dollars on No. 8 in the fourth race or four dollars on No. 2 in the eighth race," mused a lady from Utah in a big L.B.J. hat. She compromised by putting five dollars on No. 7, Champion Lady, in the third race.

The big brown filly cut out from the field in the back stretch, just beyond where a sign on the infield grass said "Welcome Democrats," and romped on home. She could have made it the rest of the way in snow shoes, and the lady from Utah pocketed $18.75.

It went pretty much like that the rest of the afternoon.

The ladies at the convention had a choice between attending the races and touring a china factory famous for making the White House dinnerware for President Wilson, Truman and Franklin Roosevelt. "Twice as many ladies showed up to inspect the two-dollar platters running at the Atlantic City course as turned out to view the presidential crockery."

"I bet one dollar at Monte Carlo last year and one dollar at Las Vegas and here I'm in for two dollars already," exclaimed Alice Narducci of Lambertville, N.J.

Houstonians By Thousands Battling Sleeping Sickness

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Thursday — is probably at its peak.

He warned, however, recent rains could increase the swarms of mosquitoes and cause an upsurge in cases a week or 10 days from now.

Free insecticide was doled out by the city and residents armed themselves for the war with the female culex mosquito, now blamed for 18 deaths the past 30 days.

Residents in this city of one million flocked to fire stations for the spray equipment they hoped would protect them from the mosquitoes, which carry the disease, commonly called sleeping sickness.

Firemen at 55 fire stations mixed the insecticide and citizens patiently waited for it carrying pickle jars, jugs, buckets, plastic bottles and even empty paint cans.

Many parents said they refused to let their children play outside after dark and stayed home evenings.

A helicopter and 40 trucks were spraying and fogging ditches and lawns — prime mosquito breeding places.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, city health director, said the epidemic — first recognized as such last

2 Boys Move To Scout Unit

Dean Galas and Lesley Ludwig, members of Cub Scout Pack 12, were promoted to Boy Scout Troop 12 at a ceremony held by the pack Tuesday night at Thompson Park. Both groups are sponsored by the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Galas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Galas and Ludwig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ludwig, both of Smithfield St.

Dale Thornton, scoutmaster, supervised the ritual and explained the duties of various patrol officers.

Sam Parkes, scoutmaster, welcomed Mark McKee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKee of Sturgis Ave., as a member of Den 2.

Receiving awards were Mark McKee, Richard Oyster, Mike Dauka, Lesley Ludwig, who received the Webelos patch, and Galas, three-year pin and Webelos patch. Pins were presented Mrs. Galas and Mrs. Ludwig.

Parkes gave a financial report on the pack's concessions at the recent Cherokee District Roundtable carnival at Thompson Park. It was announced that the pack will participate in a Goodwill Drive Oct. 3.

A corn roast followed. Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKee of Hess Rd. will be host and hostess for a planning meeting Monday night. A winner roast will be held.

Next pack meeting is Sept. 29 and will feature a beef stew cookout.

Lack Of Prosecution Frees Carnegie Pair

A Carnegie youth and girl companion, both 18, were released from the County Jail at Lisbon Tuesday after the FBI declined to file charges and a Carnegie official refused to extradite the couple in connection with the theft of a Pittsburgh car at Carnegie.

Victor Daniel Vasalec, along with a 17-year-old juvenile, were apprehended in the stolen car at 5 a.m. Tuesday in Wellsville by Deputy Herman Wellman.

Both the FBI and Carnegie authorities were notified but neither prosecuted. The insurance company reclaimed the car and the 17-year-old will be returned by juvenile authorities since he is presently on probation, authorities said.

Girl Killed By Car

CLEVELAND (AP) — Nine-year-old Marian Hodson of Pepper Pike was killed Tuesday when she rode her bicycle into the path of a car near her home.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle W. Hodson. The 11-year-old son of the family, a 9-year-old son, and a 7-year-old daughter, were not hurt.

Insurance Firm Aide Concludes Training

Mrs. Pauline G. Figley, 908 Neptune Ave., Chester, a representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in East Liverpool, has returned from New York City where she participated in a special advanced training course relating to estate planning and business life insurance underwriting.

Recently appointed to the position of Metropolitan insurance consultant, she will continue her insurance sales and service activities from the local office in this capacity. William A. Kent is office manager.

Spiritual Issues In Africa Topic Of Chester Club

Assembles Ruling Junta

Khanh Expected To Get Top Post In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Struggling to end popular unrest, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh assembled South Viet Nam's ruling military junta today to designate a new head of the nation.

He was expected to get the job.

Although Khanh bowed to Buddhist and student mobs by giving up the presidency and scrapping the new constitution Tuesday, he clung to power as head of the junta.

As the junta haggled, fears rose that the Communist Viet Cong may take advantage of the crisis by attacking the capital itself. Intelligence reports indicate that the Communists may have more than 20,000 troops around Saigon.

Diplomats described 37-year-old Khanh as confident he could weather the storm.

The 60 generals and colonels of South Viet Nam's U.S.-backed armed forces met under heavy guard at general staff headquarters near Saigon Airport.

Among them was Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, the popular Buddhist who directed the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem last November. Minh was ousted as figurehead chief of state in Khanh's Aug. 16 shakeup, which precipitated the current crisis.

Minh did not attend the junta session 10 days ago when Khanh moved up from premier to president and received dictatorial powers under the new constitution.

Also present today were four generals — including three suspected of favoring neutralization of South Viet Nam — who were placed under house arrest after Khanh seized power last Jan. 30.

Although student leaders in Saigon promised to accept the decision of the military revolutionary council, turmoil continued in at least two cities.

Reports from Da Nang, a coastal city 380 miles north of the capital, told of heavy firing around the government communications center. The center was evacuated.

Troops reportedly fired on demonstrators for the first time in three days of antigovernment, anti-Catholic and anti-American rioting in Da Nang, the reports said. At least 11 persons have been killed.

The riots began Monday when 1,000 Buddhists stoned a U.S. enlisted men's barracks 100 yards from the Catholic village. The Americans fired shots into the air to ward off the rioters.

Bondholders Seen With Key To Statehouse Parking Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If there is to be any challenge of the decision to retain the parking lots behind the Statehouse, it apparently will come from underground parking garage bondholders.

The 1,205-car underground pay-as-you-go parking facility is scheduled to open sometime between Nov. 1 and 15. As late as Thursday, the commission in charge of its construction had planned to tear out the surface parking lots along the Statehouse's east—"back door"—side.

These lots are used, free, by state legislators, some state officials like Supreme Court judges, and newsmen who cover state government.

But, while chairman William E. Knepper of the Underground Parking Commission was explaining the need for tearing them out and landscaping the area to State Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Columbus) Thursday, Gov. James A. Rhodes acted to keep them.

Rhodes filed a proclamation re-defining the area available to the commission for construction of the garage under the Statehouse.

Knepper now says "there is no reason to assume that the governor's decision is not valid." And, he says, it won't postpone the opening of the facility under the Statehouse grounds.

The commission plans no legal action, he said, but a suit could be filed by bondholders in the underground garage.

Alfred C. Gienow, state public works director, said Rhodes' order presents only a landscaping problem and "the contractor has until next April to complete work on the area in dispute."

Among other reasons, the commission chairman has indicated the surface parking lots should be eliminated to facilitate entrance and exit arrangements for the underground garage on that side, and because subscribers bought bonds with the understanding that all Statehouse parking would be underground and paid.

Lorain County Sheriff Opposes Civilian Boards

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The sheriff of Lorain County, Ohio, was one of many law enforcement officers who Tuesday expressed strong opposition to proposals that civilian boards be set up to review cases of alleged misuse of police powers.

Sheriff Vernon M. Smith told a meeting of the board of directors of the Fraternal Order of Police that some well-meaning groups are behind the moves but some others "want only to harass and weaken our law enforcement system."

Smith is chairman of the order's committee on human rights.

Ordinances to create civilian boards were defeated in Los Angeles and Cincinnati this year. Similar moves are under way in Cleveland and New York.

Jack Dudek of Cleveland, national president of the order, said in an interview that disrespect for police is gaining momentum, pointing to racial demonstrations and mob violence in various sections of the nation this year.

"In the old days," Dudek said, "the mere appearance of a policeman was enough to break up a mob. That is not true anymore."

Johnson was vacationing when he became ill about 10 days ago.

When September Bells Ring Record 2,216,904 Pupils Expected In Ohio Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's public school enrollment, which has been going up and up and up, will reach an all-time high of 2,216,904 when school bells ring next month, the State Education Department says.

All the people inside the city limits of Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus only add up to 1,875,237, the State Development Department notes.

The Education Department's 2.2 million estimate doesn't include parochial and private schools, and there were more than 300,000 youngsters in Roman Catholic elementary schools last year in Ohio.

If actual enrollment is anything close to the department's prediction, it will be an increase of something like 53,400 over a year ago. But Dr. E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, says a plateau is being reached which could "probably continue for the next three or four years."

By the 1970s, though, he says Ohio's public school enrollment will be up to 2.7 million.

Here's the projected breakdown for this school year in public schools: Kindergarten 163,689; first through eighth grade 1,425,206; high school 596,382, and special classes 31,927. Included are about 10,000 first graders from the Cincinnati

Catholic diocese which is giving up part of its program.

There will be a record number of public school teachers, too. Holt said 91,102 teachers are expected—2,177 more than a year ago—but "the teacher shortage continues." This is particularly true, he said, in elementary grades, industrial arts, girls' physical education, mathematics and physical science.

There are 776 public school districts—555 local, 159 city and 62 exempted village—plus one district, Union in Tuscarawas County, which operates no schools, the Education Department said.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — The Dennis is the oldest hotel name on the beachfront today. Prof. and Mrs. William Dennis erected a two - room cottage in Atlantic City in 1860. The cottage later was expanded into a rooming house.

W. Va. Democrats Confident Of Johnson Winning In State

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — West Virginia Democrats, on the eve of the nomination of President Johnson for a full term, say they are confident they can carry the state for him.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, chairman of the West Virginia delegation at the Democratic National Convention, has predicted Johnson will win the state by at least 44,000 votes. That's the majority by which the late President Kennedy carried West Virginia in 1960.

Rep. Ken Heckler of Huntington, a candidate for re-election in the 4th district, agreed with the prediction. He said, however, that Kennedy also would have piled up a bigger majority in West Virginia in 1964.

The biggest obstacle confronting Democrats in West Virginia, Heckler said in an interview, will be the size of the turnout.

"If too many Democrats think President Johnson is so far ahead that they won't have to go to the polls, we're in trouble," he said.

The big issue in the election in West Virginia, Heckler said, will be the extent of economic progress in the state — the extent that unemployment has been reduced under a Democratic president and a Democratic governor.

Also important, he said, will be foreign policy and the question of whether the voters feel Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee, should be entrusted with its direction.

All of the Democratic candidates will stay on the Johnson ticket and there is no possibility any will mount independent campaigns.

Vacation Trips Ends In Tragedy For Girls

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP) — A vacation trip to their grandparents' came to a tragic end Tuesday for two Cincinnati girls.

State highway patrolmen said Paula Kay Mitchell, 16, and her sister Christy Lee, 9, were riding a go-cart on a Brown County road four miles north of here and drove in front of a dump truck on U.S. 68. Both were killed. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mitchell.

Coach Howie Pollet of the St. Louis Cardinals won 12 straight games pitching with Houston in the Texas League in 1940. It was his second year in the minor leagues.

American Investments Abroad Setting Marks

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Foreigners' share of American assets have gone up strikingly in recent months. And American investments abroad are setting records. But there's a difference. The money flow is something short of making it a two-way street. In the case of Americans the big cause of the jump in dollar holdings outside the United States has been expansion of American-owned businesses abroad. This is a trend which the U.S. Department of Commerce sees continuing. Most of the gain in foreigners' stake in the American economy has come of late from the increased market value of their previously acquired holdings and only a little from new investments.

The department says that the total of American private holdings abroad climbed to $66 billion at the end of 1963, with that figure continuing to rise so far in 1964 at last year's rate, which is dubbed massive.

The investments here by foreign individuals and companies were put at $23 billion.

The U.S. government is hoping to attract more foreign investments here, both long-term and short-term, to help hold down the U.S. deficit in international payments that has been a problem in recent years.

But in 1963, when the value of foreign holdings rose by $2.6 billion, about $2 billion represented increase in prices of foreign-held American securities.

American private investment abroad rose a record $6.3 billion in 1963. About $4.3 billion was new capital from this country and $1.5 billion was earnings from previous investments reinvested in foreign enterprises. Some $500 million represented gains in the market value of securities.

U.S. investors have been sending dollars abroad for several reasons. In the short-term securities market the lure was higher yields there compared to interest rates obtainable here. In long-term securities the goal was a rising stock market abroad that accompanies the big postwar economic boom. But this largely dried up when Western European stock prices turned down for while.

The big outflow of dollars, however, has been in the founding and expansion of American industrial subsidiaries abroad, or in the teaming up with foreign industrial concerns. The department puts such investment now as close to $41 billion.

Plans Disclosed For Six-Wheeled Moon Vehicle

SEATTLE (AP)—Plans for a six-wheeled vehicle capable of taking two astronauts for a 14-day, 250-mile jaunt on the surface of the moon were disclosed Tuesday by the Boeing Co.

Boeing, which is heading a nine-month study for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration on payloads for the Apollo logistics support system, calls the moon vehicle MoLab, short for mobile laboratory. The vehicle would be sent to the moon aboard an Apollo spacecraft. If radio signals showed it landed safely, the astronauts would follow in another Apollo.

The wheels of the vehicle would be five or six feet in diameter, wire-wrapped and covered with steel mesh to cope with jagged rubble on the moon's surface.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

The Week That Was—Still Is

Most critics who regularly panned NBC's "That Was the Week That Was" last season overlooked the miracle of such a show's being on TV at all. Even more miraculous, NBC is bringing it back for another run beginning Sept. 22. Prior to TW3's debut last January, Hal Humphrey, NBC and the other networks were afraid to have it mentioned on the air that there were Republicans and Democrats. For years Bob Hope has been TV's more or less political court jester, because he is a welcome guest at the White House, no matter who is in residence, and Bob carefully distributes his usually harmless barbs equally between both parties.

JAC PAAR has had Richard Nixon, the Kennedy brothers and Sen. Barry Goldwater on his program, but in the company of these important politicians Paar always acted as if they were men from Mars. Paar himself pretends that politics is a sort of voodoo science far beyond his feeble grasp.

It's rather interesting to note that Herb Sargent, newly appointed producer of TW3, had the boom lowered on him a little more than three years ago by NBC, which was sensitive about Herb's script for an Art Carney special aired three days before the Kennedys moved into 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

Herb's theme for the entire 60 minutes was conformity, and in the script was an eight-minute skit with Art Carney and Lee Remick doing Jack and Jackie a la TV situation comedy—a sort of "President Knows Best."

"IT WAS NOT an attack on the Kennedys, and NBC's bureau of standards had accepted it. We had rehearsed for five days, but the word came down to kill the Kennedy skit," recalls Sargent.

How does Sargent account for the fact that TW3 a few years later (and on the same network) can toss a wild assortment of brickbats at the President or any other politico in the line of fire?

"I have no idea," says Sargent. "I guess it's just luck, and it's wonderful. I feel as if every other TV show I've done up to now has been like a cooking show in comparison."

Executive producer Leland Hayward called Sargent in at the end of last season to edit the final four TW3s, then gave him the producer-writer spot for the coming season.

SARGENT HOPES to give TW3 more showmanship and to cut down on the length of the sketches. He agrees with critics who felt much of the material was not clever or funny enough last season.

"I think a mistake was made in trying to imitate the casualness of the British version of TW3," Sargent observes. "The American version should have had its own format."

Too many times a topic was driven into the ground, Sargent also feels.

"The show got into a Goldwater trap, and we overdid it," he says.

As many as 30 of London's Fleet Street newsmen used to contribute material for the British TW3 (now defunct), and Sargent says he will strive to build up a similar network of contributing writers and - or performers.

"I DON'T KNOW why Henry Morgan left the show last season," Sargent says, "but I'd like to have him available as a guest contributor—one of those I could call up and say to 'Henry, we've got something here we'd like you to write and do on the show.'"

Nancy Ames, Phyllis Newman and Burr Tillstrom are signed for the coming season, says Sargent, and there will be more. He believes, however, that the permanent cast should be kept to a maximum of six persons "to avoid the traffic jam" which Sargent felt may have hurt some of the previous shows.

Does he expect any interference from a queasy network?

"The show wouldn't be on the air next season if there was an interference problem," says Sargent, confidently.

Coleman Lauds Compromise On Mississippi's Delegates

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Ohio Democratic chairman William L. Coleman termed a "fine compromise" the party's national convention decision Tuesday night on seating Mississippi delegates.

"It doesn't make everyone happy but it's something we can live with and in addition there was no other way to go," Coleman commented.

The Mississippi regular delegates, he said, were elected legally "but at the same time our party has always espoused the right of the individual."

"This principle was recognized when the convention agreed to seat two of the Freedom Democratic Party delegates," Coleman said.

Earlier in the day, Coleman said President Johnson may campaign in Ohio three or four times. Coleman said he also hopes the party's vice presidential nominee will appear at the Ohio State Convention and make several other trips into the state.

It was learned from other sources Tuesday that Johnson will be in Cleveland Oct. 8 for a $100 a plate dinner.

Coleman told a reporter he thinks Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota will be tapped for the vice presidential nomination.

He discounted a statement by Rep. Wayne Hays of Flushing that he found "much sentiment" in the Ohio delegation for Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota for the nomination.

Hays said his "information from the White House was that the race for vice president was still wide open."

Many Ohio delegates, with a day free of caucuses, spent their time on the beach or strolling along the boardwalk.

A Supermarket For Antiques?

NEW YORK (AP)—A supermarket for antiques?

Sound unlikely? It's the last wrinkle on how to get a priceless antique for a song in London, according to the British Travel Association.

Antiques in London cost one-third to one-half of comparable prices in the United States, anyway, and the new Antique Supermarket on Barret Street, brings down prices even more.

More than 50 individual dealers rent stands in the vast warehouse near Selfridge's, the famous auction dealers. Anything from an 18th Century purple pottery Staffordshire cow to a Louis XV clock is available.

Buyers wander through picking out bargains six days a week and late at night Thursdays.

Device Detects Spots On Food And Textiles

NEW YORK (AP)—A dual-element photosensitive device has been designed (by Sylvania Electric Products Inc.) to detect dark spots on food and textiles.

The device was designed to meet the need for advanced quality control systems in both textile and food processing industries.

The photosensitive elements are composed of strips of cadmium sulfide, segmented by the electrode pattern in such a way that each strip is several cells connected in series.

Because of the dual element design, changes in temperature and light have little or no effect on operation.

In a typical food application, a one-half-inch field on a french fried potato conveyor is monitored for blemishes measuring 1-16 inch in diameter.

VFW Says Soviet Should Pay U.N. Expenses 'Or Get Out'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Delegates at the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention have agreed that Russia should pay her share of expenses in the United Nations or get out of that organization.

The delegates also voted Tuesday opposition to the United States extending diplomatic recognition in any form either to Red China or to Cuba.

These were among the first batch of a total of 241 resolutions acted on at the 65th national VFW convention which ends Friday.

It was announced that Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama has accepted an invitation from the Southern Conference of the convention to address the VFW. He is expected Thursday and reportedly will second the nomination of John A. (Buck) Jenkins, senior VFW vice commander who is slated to become new national commander of the 1,300,000-member organization. Jenkins is from Birmingham, Ala. The election is Friday.

Before Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee arrived Tuesday, the delegates heard Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr. commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps.

"We are striving to preserve the security of this nation, the general said. 'We do not plan to do it by launching an unprovoked attack against any possible aggressor.'

"We are maintaining our readiness for war while seeking peace and security."

Among the other resolutions approved were:

—Urge the U.S. to impose "certain restrictions" on agents of foreign firms doing business within the U.S. These would be

"counter-restrictions," the resolution said, duplicating similar ones now placed on U.S. firms doing business in foreign countries.

—To ask that the U.S. assume the cost of keeping the eternal flame burning at the grave of the late President John F. Kennedy in Arlington National Cemetery.

Rhodes Cancels Over 12 Car License Plates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than a dozen automobile license plates in the Cleveland area—issued to persons erroneously believed to be career consular officials of foreign nations—have been canceled by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

An aide said it has turned out that most of the officers are honorary rather than career, and not entitled to rights, privileges and immunities accorded foreign consular officers. The Highway Safety Department is contacting those involved to have them apply for regular license plates.

Man, 98, Seeking To Sell 1928 Ford

PATTON, Pa. (AP)—Henry Myers, 98, wants to sell his 1928 Model A Ford sedan because "There's too much traffic and it moves too fast."

Myers said he bought the car new and paid $600 for it. He said it's been 68,000 miles—never over 50 miles per hour—and is in good condition.

"The fastest I ever drove was 45 miles an-hour and that was because I was in a funeral procession and I had to keep up with the other cars," he said.

Post To Give Team Dinner

American Legion Post 374 will hold a dinner for its baseball team at next Monday night's meeting at 8 in the East End home.

A balloon dance will be held Saturday night from 10 to 1 a.m. with Tom Colella's band providing the music.

Plans for the events were made at Monday's meeting at which Harry Dawson, trustee, said trustees had purchased a new color TV set for the post home.

James Cregar, commander, said Robert Milne, adjutant, will be the delegate to the fall conference in Tiltonsville. Ralph Betz, post member, was reported a patient in the Deshon Veterans Hospital in Butler.

Athletic officials said Larry Keeper had the highest score on the bowling team during recent competition for the third time in a row. Some 53 attended.

A committee appointed two weeks ago will submit its report during next Monday's meeting.

LADDER CLIMBING

Cliff Williams has climbed several rungs on the ladder of success since he joined Crucible 14 years ago. He started as an outside machinist helper in the Utilities department. Three years later he became a power house operator, then was promoted to power maintenance man, sub-foreman and most recently to turn foreman.

Cliff earned his promotions, not only by doing good work, but by supplementing his knowledge with night school classes in electrical engineering and management.

His success is matched by others at the Midland plant where opportunities for advancement are frequent. Coupled with high wages and good benefits they help to make steel jobs good jobs.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: It seems there are a lot of budding young artists who draw with ball point ink!

The method used to remove ball point ink depends on what the marks are on. And, there are different TYPES of ball point ink; what works on some, won't touch others.

Be SURE to spot test any item you use.

Try rubbing alcohol, amyl acetate, peroxide or fingernail cuticle remover and just sponge with a cloth. As a last resort, one could try bleach (read directions on bottle), especially if it's on leather, etc.

Sometimes liquid rust remover will remove remaining red traces.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Would someone please settle this controversy between housewives and dishwasher manufacturers once and for all?

It's generally accepted among housewives that you DO NOT put fine china or silver in a dishwasher.

It's generally accepted among dishwasher manufacturers, that it is perfectly safe to do so.

our fine china and silver and don't want to damage it, so when we need our dishwashers the most — when company comes to dinner — we spend half the evening in the kitchen washing dishes by hand. So please help us!

PARTY-POOPED.

Write to me in care of this paper and tell us what you think about this. Letters do not have to be signed.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found when hemming a piece of material with a bias-cut edge that it is much easier if a line of stitching is put near the bias-cut edge before hemming.

This makes it easier to handle and gives a firm edge to keep the material from stretching.

It also helps to make a neat, more even hem.

Save all pieces of toilet soap — the ones no one wants to use — cover them with water and simmer until they are melted.

Add a few drops of your favorite coloring, pour into cup cake molds (placed in muffin tins) and let harden. You will then have new bars of soap that are easy to hang onto in the shower.

Innocent Plea Given
By Reason Of Insanity
CINCINNATI (AP)—Accused dismemberment slayer Mrs. Grace Ballew, 45, has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to a charge of second degree murder.

Mrs. Ballew's court-appointed lawyers entered the plea Tuesday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court. Prosecutor Raymond E. Shannon said she stabbed Oscar Calmeise, 75, during a quarrel May 6 and then tried to dispose of his body by cutting it up and boiling parts of it down.

1 Killed, 1 Injured
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A train sheered in two a car on Refugee Road just west of Ohio 256 five miles southeast of here Tuesday, killing Don Mackenzie, 34, of Buckeye Lake.

Officials said the front part of the car was thrown 30 yards down a ditch and into a field. Ernest Stalling, 36, of Rt. 3, Thornville, was injured in the accident in Franklin County near the Franklin County line.

Junior Editors Quiz on
MONA LISA

QUESTION: Why is the Mona Lisa famous?

ANSWER: This picture was painted by the great Italian Leonardo da Vinci, who lived between 1452 and 1519. It is a portrait of the wife of a merchant, Francesco del Giocondo, and is often called La Gioconda. Up to that time, pictures had mostly been of events or religious ideas: This was one of the unusual portraits of a real human being, of special interest because she seems so warm and human; we can almost see her thinking. What is she thinking about? Perhaps this is the secret of La Gioconda's fame—everyone is trying to guess her secret. The faintest of smiles plays over her lips—but again, what is she smiling about? Everyone has his own idea. Here is our artist's special theory: "Most people in portraits," he says, "give me the feeling they are thinking about themselves. But this wise, lovely lady looks deeply into your eyes and seems to think about you rather than herself. Somehow, she seems to have guessed your secret. And she gives the impression that even if she shares my secret, she will keep it in confidence."

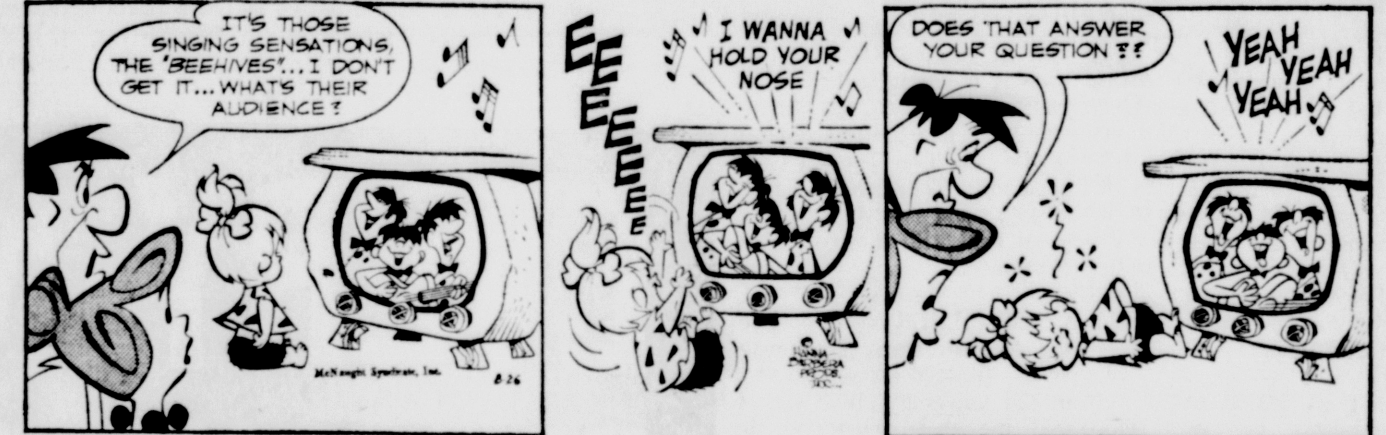

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a color reproduction of the Mona Lisa and look deeply into her eyes. See if you agree with our artist. If not, work out your own explanation of that wise but tantalizing smile.

Last Stand

The rasping chatter of the Everglade kite is fading into silence.

Less than 20 of the hawk-like birds survive in the United States, according to the Interior Department's Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife. Most live in the Loxahatchee National Wildlife Refuge, a 228-square mile watery wilderness south-west of Palm Beach.

Once a common sight skimming over Florida's marshlands, the dark gray bird now faces extinction because extensive swamp drainage is destroying its natural habitat and source of food.

The Everglade kite dines exclusively on a single species of fresh-water snail, Pomacea caliginosa. The large snails are found only in the shallows of permanent fresh-water marshes.

As man takes land and water for cities and farms, the marshes dry up, the snails die and the kites disappear. Lone hope for the kite, according to ornithologists, is to restore and maintain adequate water areas where the snails can flourish and the birds can find ample marsh vegetation for nesting.

Though rare in the United States, the Everglade kite is commonly seen in parts of Cuba, Mexico and Central and South America.

This 'n That

The first industrial plant built exclusively for the manufacture of internal combustion engines rose in Cologne in 1864. Three years later, N.A. Otto produced a four-stroke gas engine, which was one of the forerunners of modern internal combustion motors.

Fuel cells planned for the Gemini space craft will use hydrogen and oxygen. Chemical energy from the reaction will be converted into electricity. The ingenious cells will yield an important bonus: drinking water for the astronauts.
